

EASTERN PROMISE

QX GETS A TASTE OF THAILAND

THE charity fundraiser on Sunday 24th September at The Princess Thai Restaurant & Jimmy's Bar was a resounding success and full of Eastern promise. In aid of The UK Thailand Children's Fund, the night raised an amazing £2,500, which the registered charity uses to support orphaned children infected and affected by HIV and AIDS in Northern Thailand. Jade and her friends wowed the audience with a show of traditional Eastern dance and song all performed with grace and style by guest performers Mimi, Sarah, Rosie and the beautiful Sakie who all wore beautiful costumes. And to add a bit of spice to the evening, an exotic stripper Leo was on hand to sex-up the night's entertainment. Jade and Samantha were the hosts for the evening and, in between stylish and romantic performances by some of London's best 'ladyboys', diners were treated to a sumptuous buffet of fragrant Thai delicacies. This was one charity fundraising night that made a change to the normal run of the mill nights and brought a touch of class and glamour to London on a Sunday night.

The UK Thailand Children's Fund is run in the UK by volunteers. 100% of all monies raised goes directly to the projects and the children supported by the charity. For more information on the UK Thailand Children's Fund go to www.uktcf.org or email info@uktcf.org.
